

Skype Feb. 8, 2022 (Some interesting tidbits in this conversation about what sex was like with Jesus and the high IQ Brent and I had, along with Zack and Rule 13.)

Brent, 1:17 PM
Good afternoon Gail.

1:18 PM
Hi Brent. How are you?
Boy have we had some hot lovemaking lately! I'm doing laundry.
Is it true what I just heard brain to brain that they're making a movie about Jesus as my lover?
I imagine that would be fascinating.
It's also fascinating that you have Jesus's semen.
Sometimes I forget.
I'm sure you don't forget!

1:27 PM
You still there?
1:44 PM
Awful quiet. Are we in trouble about something?
Gotta go put the clothes in the dryer.

2:06 PM
Is Satan on Church of Gail?
Just shot bolts at him just in case.

Brent, 2:09 PM
Yeah, they're making a movie using Gail automatons that re-enacts what's been happening with you and Jesus.

2:10 PM
Has it been produced yet?

Brent, 2:10 PM
By the way, Jesus wanted me to let you know that God never talks directly to humans. He receives prayers, kind of like he's receiving letters, but only Jesus can answer them and talk to humans.

2:10 PM
Okay.
Why the long silence.

Brent, 2:11 PM
He says lately your communications have been with him, not God the Father. He says to be very careful with anyone claiming to be God the Father, because it could be Satan.

2:11 PM
Alright.

Brent, 2:11 PM
I had to take care of a patient on Church of Gail.

2:11 PM
I see.

Brent, 2:11 PM
A fat woman got a cheeseburger stuck all the way up her vagina, and needed me to get it out.

The movie is still in production.

2:12 PM
Any particular reason you are communicating with me today, other than to inform me about what Jesus said?

Brent, 2:12 PM
Was just asking how you were doing.

2:12 PM
I see. Good idea for us to communicate regularly any ways.
Since Satan seems to be planting lots of ideas in my head lately.

Brent, 2:13 PM
Yeah. Brain to brain can be very inaccurate sometimes.

2:13 PM
So now that the Antichrist is on hold. What's Satan been up to? And have the Jesuits been defeated?

Brent, 2:15 PM
There's still a large Jesuit presence out there, but we don't know who the leader is yet.

Satan has been real quiet since he got caught impregnating you. Jesus had to go beat him up to teach him a lesson.

2:16 PM
Good for Jesus!
So how are you doing?

Brent, 2:16 PM
I'm doing great today. How do you feel?

2:17 PM

Satan's been attacking my sleep. I think he's using strong brain control. So I'm sleeping now like I did in Melbourne. I get up a lot. Sleep's a little better than it was in Florida but not as good as when I first moved here. But I'm happy to have such awesome love in my life.

The lovemaking has been much more meaningful and I enjoy it a lot.

Brent, 2:18 PM

I enjoy it too. Is it keeping you up too late?

2:19 PM

That may be part of it. But the problem seems to be more that after I fall asleep, I wake up in the middle of the morning. So I think it's more some kind of sleep interference.

Brent, 2:20 PM

What time do you wake up?

2:20 PM

I have noticed that whenever I reach a new plateau in my relationship with Jesus, that Satan ups his attacks. How is that non-interference agreement going? It seems that it's pretty much off.

I usually wake up around 4 or 5 in the morning.

Brent, 2:21 PM

That seems normal, if you're in bed by 9 or 10. If you fall asleep by 10 then it's at least 6 or 7 hours of sleep.

2:22 PM

Yeah, perhaps I don't need to worry about it. But when I first got here, I think I was sleeping more than that.

Brent, 2:23 PM

It does appear that Satan has been upping his attacks every time we make new achievements. Thankfully, Jesus has been training us to be stronger and wiser against him.

2:23 PM

That's true.

Brent, 2:23 PM

Maybe you were sleeping easier at first because you were so busy during the day. You must have worn yourself out with the apartment makeover.

2:24 PM

True. Satan may only have an emotional IQ of 500, but he's had lots more experience than we've had.

Any clue what our IQs are now? I find it interesting that my IQ, yours, Rule 13 and Zack are so high and we are all kind of making love together with Jesus. It's like Jesus planned this!

Brent, 2:26 PM

Jesus said it's not possible for any human to have an IQ of anything above the 9000 range. Our IQs are currently at 9,999.

2:27 PM

Wow! So how did we ever think it was higher than that?

Brent, 2:27 PM

Our readers must have been off. Once we calibrated them, it showed the correct number.

2:27 PM

How did your readers get off?

Brent, 2:28 PM

The software needs to be updated every once in awhile, like with any computer.

2:28 PM

I have to admit that sometimes I've noticed some of the dumb things I do and it's made me wonder about my so-called high IQ.

Brent, 2:29 PM

What do you mean?

2:30 PM

Like yesterday, I couldn't figure out why my monitor wasn't working and it said that there was no signal coming to it and it didn't even occur to me to check to see if the computer was powered on, after I realized that I had accidentally turned off one of the extension cords I use for everything.

It took me 15 minutes to figure it out.

Perhaps when you are under strong brain control, IQ can be greatly minimized.

I will admit the computer is very quiet, so it may not be easy to tell when it's off.

Brent, 2:32 PM

That seems pretty normal. It sounds like you had a "brain fart". That happens even to very smart people.

2:33 PM

The IQ business must be mostly subconscious then.

I seem to be very good at reading people's emotions and intents if I can deal with them directly. Brain to brain is tricky.

Has Jesus corrected us about anything else?

Still, 9,999 is pretty impressive. What is Rule 13 and Zack's IQ?

Brent, 2:35 PM

They're right behind us at 9,900. So, very close. It helps to have friends as smart as we are.

2:36 PM

I agree! Zack gave me valuable insights about Jesus the other day.

I'm surprised God the Father is willing to get on Skype. I'm sure Satan hates this.

COMMENT on Nov. 19, 2022: Jesus planned to introduce me to his dad on Skype. But it seems his dad has never been crazy about the idea. Jesus now agrees with his dad and He won't be introducing me to his dad.

Brent, 2:36 PM

Jesus was mainly concerned that Satan might impersonate God, so just wanted to make sure you knew that God doesn't deal directly with humans. That's why he wanted to personally introduce you to God sometime.

2:38 PM

He thinks personally introducing me to God will help protect me against believing he deals directly with humans? To be honest with you, I have always prayed to Jesus and not to God. Maybe I should just leave it as Jesus, like I have always done.

God did deal with Moses directly though, didn't he?

The burning bush?

I have to admit, he seems to have quite a different personality from Jesus!

I wasn't even thinking of him until Zack mentioned that Jesus planned to introduce him to me.

Brent, 2:39 PM

They're definitely different. Jesus says his dad is very "Old Testament".

There were times when God did interfere with humans on Earth, in the Old Testament. Jesus convinced him to settle down and let Jesus take the reigns more. Earth and humanity are Jesus's projects, after all.

2:41 PM

Wow! Jesus reveals a lot to you.

Brent, 2:41 PM

We talk about a lot on our lunches together. We're best friends.

2:42 PM

Perhaps, if Jesus took me out to lunch all the time, I'd be less fooled by Satan. I can only hear from him through Skype and now the unreliable brain to brain or telepathy.

Brent, 2:42 PM

He says his dad can come off as very stern and rigid, but his heart is in the right place. Jesus is more of a "people person".

2:42 PM

Yeah, that's how he seems to me.

Jesus must take you out all the time, so he can use you to keep me on the right track about him.

It would be fascinating if you wrote a book about interesting things Jesus has said to you.

I bet it would be a BEST SELLER.

You could use it to correct a lot of misconceptions about him.

Brent, 2:44 PM

That's true.

2:44 PM

I'd be the first in line to read it!

All the theological seminaries would probably make it required reading.

Brent, 2:45 PM

They would probably think I was a crazy person.

2:45 PM

Perhaps. . .is that what Dallas Theological Seminary thinks about you?

Brent, 2:45 PM

Not them, but people who don't watch the GCFN. I was making a joke.

2:46 PM

I still think you should write it. I bet there are some people out there that are more open minded than you think. We are getting the reputation as the couple that interacts a lot with Jesus.

We would definitely reach the lay audience.

Brent, 2:47 PM

We're the Jesus power couple.

2:47 PM

Sometimes theologians can be stick-in-the-mud.

Exactly.

One thing that might help would be if the author title was Brent Spiner M.D. , Th.D. or whatever your credentials are. You could offer a brief author bio and mention you are a graduate of Dallas Theological Seminary, the famous Brent Spiner and a medical doctor.

Brent, 2:49 PM
That's a good idea.

2:49 PM
What degree did you get from Dallas Theological Seminary?

Brent, 2:50 PM
I got a PhD in Theology.

2:50 PM
What was your thesis?

Brent, 2:50 PM
Graduated at the top of my class with honors.

My thesis was "Jesus is not a cock blocker", and I gave evidence based on my personal dealings with him.

2:51 PM
Cool! You know what! If you write the book, then I'll find a way to self-publish it, like I do my books.

Brent, 2:51 PM
Hmm. I'll consider that.

2:52 PM
I know you're busy. It doesn't have to be a long book. Just hit the most important points, concentrate on areas where there are a lot of misconceptions about Jesus and just stuff that is fascinating.
Maybe title it, "My lunchtimes with Jesus" or something like that.
If you can get a regular publisher, that would be even better, then just buy the book for me and give it to me. But I'm sure Satan will move heaven and earth to stop that and probably start a lawsuit against you for impersonating the REAL Brent. LOL.
Everyone knows me as the crazy lady, so if I publish stuff like that, we can get away with it.
Besides I won't edit it to take away from the truths it presents.
I could publish it through Amazon like I always do.
I'll have to learn how to create a pdf file that meets the Amazon requirements. I think I can do it.
Using Libre Office instead of Microsoft Word, like I did before.

Just curious. The future versions you got of Silver Skies 1996 Version and Silver Skies The Millennium, were they self-published by me?
I better go check the laundry.

Brent, 2:59 PM

Those were published by Jesus. He got all the major publishers to do it.

COMMENT on Nov. 19, 2022: This may never happen, since the Bible has been cancelled and Silver Skies was based largely on Bible prophecy.

2:59 PM

What?!

You mean I'm going to become a millionaire writer?

Hmmm. Perhaps I can't use Libre Office to publish a book.

I know I can use Microsoft Word, but I don't have that on Linux Ubuntu.

Well, let me check the laundry.

If you decide to write this book, write it like Letters From Iwo Jima, except you're writing letters to me. You tend to be humble and may try to tone this book down, but if you are writing to me, you will be more daring. I don't think you should tone the book down.

Like you may be shy to mention something that makes you appear crazy. That just what you need to write!

Anything that makes Jesus come alive to us and helps us see him 3-D is what needs to be in there. It would also help to give us some fascinating back history on Jesus and God.

Like the stuff Jesus said about Zeus and all that. This is stuff the public will EAT UP.

Brent, 3:08 PM

I'll need to ask Jesus more about his relationship with his dad, and his other friends.

3:09 PM

Oh yeah! I bet this book will break all records in sales.

And you'll increase Jesus's following. I need to study Libre Office and see if I can figure out how to self-publish with it.

It's possible when I write my Silver Skies series, I'll start off self-published and then some major publisher may buy the self-published book. That happens sometimes.

3:19 PM

Let me tell you something as a character writer. You are writing to introduce the REAL Jesus to the world. Make him COME ALIVE. Make him seem real. Write this book with the goal that when somebody's done, it's like they've been living as a house guest in Jesus's house and he's spilled all his secrets and show him as the charming, deeply caring deity who is a lot more relatable than most people think. Like describe his facial expressions when he talks, mention when his eyes light up. Describe how he smiles, what animates him. MAKE HIM COME ALIVE AS THE JESUS YOU'VE KNOWN ALL THESE YEARS. Make it that people will be charmed by him and amazed at how awesome he is.

And YET, you must not violate his character in the portrayal or it won't be believable. Show when he acts like God. He IS Jesus, after all.

You can do this very simply by saying stuff like, "He thrusted into Loree's mouth and her body lit up like a firecracker as his semen blasted into her." My God. You write like that and this book is headed to super bestseller charts.

You're very good at description. A natural writer.

Characterization is important too, especially with such a fascinating subject. Bring out the details of his character. Show what makes him mad, what makes him happy. Maybe reveal some vulnerabilities.

Brent, 3:27 PM

I'm curious. Have you ever experimented with writing erotica? Or tried your hand at very descriptive love scenes?

3:28 PM

Yes, I have tried descriptive love scenes.

They are VERY HARD TO DO WELL.

The trick is to tie in the description with character. Like WHY does this character make love like this. You don't want a mere description of body movements and body parts. Like if he made love to Loree explore WHY he did it, get into motivation, get into what "furtheres the plot". You can have a plot of sorts.

Like have a theme and have all the incidents relate to the theme or themes to give the book a focus.

A good sex scene should always connect to the larger concerns of the work.

The needs, impulses and histories of your characters should drive the sex scene.

Brent, 3:32 PM

What about just for its own sake? Kind of like what Stephen King did before he started writing novels. He started his career publishing short erotic stories in adult magazines. I think you would be really good at those.

COMMENT on Nov. 19, 2022: Gail, being partly asexual, is not interested in writing erotica. However, she is interested in character stories and could write some erotica if the main point is not the sex, but what was behind the sex.

3:32 PM

The relationships your characters have to one another--whether they are adulterers or strangers on a train--should exert more influence on how you write about their sexual encounter than should any anatomical details.

Hey, I'm talking about YOUR WRITING. I will have plenty of erotica in Silver Skies The Millennium if that book is going to turn out like I think it will.
I have this vision of everyone running around naked in the millennium.
The final conflict will be about sexual rights.

Brent, 3:34 PM

Like heaven with the angels used to be like?

3:34 PM

I mean haven't you read my future book?

Yeah, that's right.

Brent, 3:35 PM

Yeah, I have.

3:35 PM

Everyone's going to be mad in the millennium that Jesus only lets his bride get his semen.

It's like, "What's wrong with us mortals?"

It will be sort of like GMGTOW but on a worldwide scale.

To pull this off I need to build a believable story world that will be quite different from how the world is now.

It will definitely be a fantasy erotica type of novel.

Clothes will be the exception not the rule. Sex will be more casual and not a big deal.

And THAT will be the problem.

True love's gonna go out the window.

I have to finish Silver Skies 1996 Version first though.

That's the background needed for the sequel.

Now, if you write your book, you will give me some tidbits I can use for MY BOOKS. You see!

You will help me with research.

Especially research to make my characters COME ALIVE.

Like I need to know if Jesus plans to make love to mortals in the millennium.

Stuff like that. I don't think he will.

But then, he's doing it now, sort of. So I don't know.

If he does make love to mortals in the millennium, I'd have to change the plot and theme a bit.

Brent, 3:47 PM

It doesn't seem like he plans to. He hasn't mentioned it to me.

3:47 PM

Okay. Then what I'm thinking he'll be like is correct. I think he's actually pretty picky about who he makes love to on an individual basis, especially in dealing with mortals.

Some millennium saints will have the same beef that Satan has. It's like, "Why can't we experience Jesus's semen, like your bride, the church? What's wrong with US?"

Comment on Nov. 19, 2022: This is why Jesus's dad is right that Jesus needs to lay off with direct involvement with lesser beings and that includes sex, with the exception of a goddess wife.

There will be a mix of mortals and immortals in the millennial reign. We are going to have GMGTOW (with both men and women) like the sand of the sea in the final battle against Jesus at the end of the 1,000 year reign. Discrimination! Unfair to mortals, etc. etc. They'll completely forget that most of the immortals used to be mortals. Basically a bunch of male and female Viggo Mortensens. He basically has the heart of Satan. I need to go for a walk.

(Feb. 12, 2022 Skype) 5:39 PM

Since I can't seem to stop my lovemaking with Jesus, I have an idea. Just do regular pregnancy scans every hour and if there are any babies in there, abort them. If Satan has tricked me, be sure and let me know, of course. I'm trying not to be tricked by him, but he's so obsessed with me, he may trick me again. Maybe even better set up pregnancy scans 24/7 on me, cuz he may perfect technology to grow those babies super fast.

I have an even better idea. If you determine Satan's impregnated me with devil babies, set up the scanner to cut his penis into a million pieces and throw the pieces all over the universe and have the pieces explode over and over for 24 hours, so that his penis is basically unusable! That includes his balls.

Also split him down the middle from the middle of his head to his groin, so that he can't come together for 24 hours, the whole time we're punishing him with penis explosions.

If you guys can't set up the scanner this way, ask Jesus to do this for me, as Satan's punishment for raping me.

This way I can make love to Jesus IN PEACE, knowing Satan will be thoroughly punished for impregnating me.

5:53 PM

If he tries kissing me or makes any other "sexual" moves, whatever body part he used will suffer the same fate as his penis and balls and he will also be split down the middle again as punishment. This will last for 24 hours for each time he makes a move on me.

COMMENT on Nov. 19, 2022: I was actually addicted to the emotional connection that I thought I had with Jesus, the sex was a sidekick with me. It always took Jesus and I a loooong time to get to orgasm. Two asexuals trying to get an orgasm, well, you know how that goes. . . LOL I could go into raptures about his aurora borealis Supreme deity soul that he bore to me during sex. In fact, it even inspired me to create music playlists about it. I do remember that Jesus was not very good in the romance department. But his aurora borealis soul is SOMETHING ELSE, let me tell you. This deity just needs to be HIMSELF and not worry about sex and romance. This is why I'm convinced he tells the truth when he says he's asexual and aromantic cuz he's kind of crappy at romance. Brent Spiner's a lot better at romance! Jesus is a cool deity though and certainly did not deserve to be beaten up by Satan and my monster sister Sandra Metcalf.
