

Squaring Up

Sir Chloe Lyrics

I said I don't want love
But you just won't give up
Don't want to waste my time
On a feeling, but you're not listening

Show me what you're made of 'cause I'm squaring up
You may be fighting dirty but I'm not giving up
I know that you want to break my heart of stone

You sure are good looking but I'll be going home alone tonight

I said this don't feel right
You said I'm just the type
To change my mind ten hundred times
Almost took you home just to prove you wrong

Show me what you're made of 'cause I'm squaring up
You may be fighting dirty but I'm not giving up
I know that you want to break my heart of stone
You sure are good looking but I'll be going home alone

Show me what you're made of 'cause I'm squaring up
You may be fighting dirty but I'm not giving up
I know that you want to break my heart of stone

You sure are good looking but I'll be going home alone tonight
Tonight

Overall Meaning

The lyrics of Sir Chloe's song Squaring Up convey a sense of defiance and determination in the face of persistent romantic pursuits. The singer declares that she does not want love, but her potential partner is not willing to give up the chase. Despite feeling that the situation is not right and not wanting to waste her time on a fleeting feeling, the singer is met with a persistent suitor who is not listening to her words.

In response, the singer squares up, ready to face her opponent, and challenges them to show her what they are made of. Although her opponent may be fighting dirty, the singer is not giving up and will not allow them to break her heart of stone. Despite acknowledging their good looks, she ultimately chooses to go home alone, standing by her decision not to pursue a romantic relationship.

The lyrics of Squaring Up reveal a sense of empowerment and self-determination in the face of societal pressures to conform to traditional romantic expectations. By asserting her autonomy and choosing to remain single, the singer challenges common cultural norms and expectations surrounding romance and relationships.

Line by Line Meaning

I said I don't want love
I clearly stated that I am not looking for romantic love.

But you just won't give up
Despite my declaration, you are persistent and continue to pursue me.

Don't want to waste my time
I do not want to invest my time and energy into something that won't last.

On a feeling, but you're not listening
Although I have expressed my true intentions, you are not paying attention to my words.

Show me what you're made of 'cause I'm squaring up
I want you to prove your worth to me because I am ready to face you head-on.

You may be fighting dirty but I'm not giving up
Even if you try to play dirty, I will persevere and not back down easily.

I know that you want to break my heart of stone
You may think that my heart is unbreakable, but you secretly hope to prove me wrong.

You sure are good looking but I'll be going home alone tonight
Although I recognize your physical attractiveness, I have no intention of pursuing anything with you tonight.

I said this don't feel right
My gut feeling is telling me that this situation is not right for me.

You said I'm just the type
You dismissed my intuition and categorized me based on your assumptions.

To change my mind ten hundred times
You assume that I am indecisive and fickle in my decision-making.

Almost took you home just to prove you wrong
Although I doubted your assumptions, I almost agreed to your proposal just to challenge your beliefs.

Writer(s): Dana Foote, Teddy O'mara

Contributed by Ava P.